Just did.

No. You have not explicitly mentioned destruction in this thread until now.

As illustrated, your conception of energy is not comprehensive. You are awkwardly forcing physics terminology upon all things. What you present is incoherent, unstructured rambling utilizing awkward terminology.

Quite…I keep telling them that but they won’t listen…

Your terms and concepts are problematic. They deny distinction. They are incoherent and awkward, contradictory even.

Your concepts incoherently blend into one another. They are one another. Creation is destruction. Destruction is creation.

You claim all is energy. Yet challenge me to point to “an energy thing”:

…suggesting I cannot. But I thought all is energy? So any response should be an example of it.

As illustrated, your philosophy is incoherent.

It’s impossible to cancel the SELF (Spirit) out because you need to exist to claim that you don’t exist.If you claim that you don’t exist then you are a liar who exists.Atheists claim that reality is a misrepresentation of reality which is an absolutely ridiculous thing to claim proving that they are trapped in binary “prisoners of consciousness” who exist.

The SELF (spirit) is separate from the binary physical which exists.

Truth teller/Liar=Truth teller/Liar

Show me a thing, that is immutable, indivisible, static.

You told me, now show me some-thing that is immutable, indivisible, static…..show me the god-particle, or is it just god?

Read back…interactivity means repulsion/attraction…..creating destroying…

You’ve illustrated nothing, but your dissatisfaction with what is being revealed.

You experience energy daily, you interact with it constantly, you are it, and then pretend that it is incomprehensible.

Define existence for me, so we can see how fucked up you truly are.

I was a victim of wishful thinking when I mistakenly read “science” instead of “silence”, because I was in a hurry.

Now that I am back, I still hope you mean science…because if you cannot comprehend what silence is, then I’ve overestimated you.

Tell me, after you give me your definition of existence, what is silence?

Why is space silent…..does a tree falling in a forest make a sound, if there’s no one there to hear it?

What is required for the experience of sound?
